

Announcement of Gateway EDI Billing Services for EarlySteps Providers

May 27, 2010

Gainwell Technologies, as the contracted central finance office (CFO) for EarlySteps has facilitated an opportunity for EarlySteps' providers who provide Medicaid-payable services to access online billing services through Gateway EDI Services when submitting claims to Molina/Unisys for early intervention services.

This service offers providers the ability to submit Medicaid claims on-line and to check claims status, as well as, to work denied claims. Gateway EDI will offer special pricing for EarlySteps providers enrolling within the first three months (June 2010 through August 2010). Gateway EDI will also provide training and technical support to the provider once they have enrolled with Gateway EDI.

Why would I want to send my claims electronically?

There are many advantages to sending claims electronically versus mailing paper claims. These advantages include:

- . Faster Payment
- . Cost Savings
- . Tracking Capabilities

I don't send very many Claims.

There are many benefits available regardless of your claim volume. Wouldn't you like to get paid faster? Wouldn't you enjoy spending more time seeing clients and less time printing, folding and stuffing paper claims? Wouldn't you benefit from tracking your claims rather than dealing with the paper claim "black hole?" These advantages are realized on every claim submitted electronically rather than on paper.

There is a Product Solution now available through Gateway EDI

Gateway EDI has a Direct Data Entry product that allows providers and agencies that do not have a claims management system to prepare claims and submit electronically. This service has the ability to build a client database to store demographic and Medicaid information so this does not have to be re-keyed each time. When you are ready to prepare claims, you simply select the client from the database, enter your service information and transmit. The claims will then be processed through the Gateway EDI system and sent to Molina/Unisys for payment.

EarlySteps hopes that you will find the ability to submit electronic claims to Medicaid beneficial for your business.
